Agreement Date	_____	Payment Status	Paid / Pending
Payment Date	_____	Renewal Date	_____

1. Software Charges & Payment

The client agrees to pay PKR 50,000 per year for the agreed software plan. Record the payment status and date above. The annual plan covers the agreed software usage and support described in this agreement. Renewal is subject to the agreed annual fee.

2. Desktop Application & Offline Operation

The software is a desktop application designed to work offline without requiring a continuous internet connection. Business data is stored locally on the computer or storage location configured for the application.

The client understands that local data may be affected by computer failure, hard-drive damage, accidental deletion, viruses, theft, or other technical issues.

3. Free Customer Support & Bug Fixes

During the active annual plan, TechRiwaayat will provide support at no additional charge for troubleshooting, reproducible bugs in the agreed functionality, and assistance with normal use of existing features.

Free support does not automatically include new features, major upgrades, additional modules, data recovery, hardware repairs, unauthorized modifications, or third-party software problems. Any exclusions or charges will be explained before paid work begins.

4. Additional Features & Customization

Any new feature, module, customization, report, integration, or change requested after delivery is additional work and will be charged separately.

TechRiwaayat will explain the scope, cost, and estimated delivery time before starting. Work will begin only after the client approves the quotation in writing. No feature is included in the annual plan unless agreed in writing.

5. Data Storage, Backup & Data Loss Responsibility

The client acknowledges that the application operates offline and stores business data locally. The client is responsible for maintaining regular and secure backups of all important business data. TechRiwaayat will explain the recommended backup procedure and how to keep backup copies safely.

The client should keep backups on a separate external drive or another secure storage location and verify that backups can be restored. The client is responsible for regular backups, protecting backup copies, and preventing unauthorized access.

If data is lost because of computer damage, accidental deletion, operating-system failure, theft, or similar circumstances and the client has not maintained backups, recovery may not be possible. Data recovery, where technically possible, may involve separate charges agreed in advance. TechRiwaayat is not responsible for data loss arising from circumstances outside its agreed responsibilities, including the client's failure to maintain backups. This clause does not exclude liability that cannot legally be excluded.

6. Annual Renewal & Support Period

The annual plan is valid for 12 months from the agreed start date, unless otherwise specified in writing. The annual renewal fee is PKR 50,000, subject to the agreed renewal terms. Renewal and any applicable price changes will be communicated in advance. Support under this agreement is provided during the active plan period. Any change to the fee or scope must be communicated and agreed before renewal.

7. Client Responsibilities

The client agrees to use the software for its intended business purposes; keep the computer and operating system in working condition; protect passwords and system access; maintain regular backups; provide accurate information when reporting issues; and obtain approval before requesting additional paid work.
